DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claim 7 contains the trademark/trade name Velcro. Where a trademark or trade name is used in a claim as a limitation to identify or describe a particular material or product, the claim does not comply with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. See Ex parte Simpson, 218 USPQ 1020 (Bd. App. 1982). The claim scope is uncertain since the trademark or trade name cannot be used properly to identify any particular material or product. A trademark or trade name is used to identify a source of goods, and not the goods themselves. Thus, a trademark or trade name does not identify or describe the goods associated with the trademark or trade name. In the present case, the trademark/trade name is used to identify/describe a hook and loop type fastener and, accordingly, the identification/description is indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Finkelstein.

Regarding claim 1, Finkelstein shows a substantially semi-circular body having first (22) and second (24) elongated planer and semi-circular surfaces defining an interior cavity. (Fig. 4)

Art Unit: 3635

Regarding claim 2, Finkelstein shows an advertising display. (Fig. 1)

Regarding claim 3, Finkelstein shows a fastening means (40). (Fig. 1)

Regarding claim 4, Finkelstein shows stenciled letters. (Fig. 1)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Finkelstein as applied in the rejection of claim 1 above.

Regarding claim 5-7, Finkelstein shows the basic claimed structure. Finkelstein does not show lighting elements, magnetically mounted objects on a metallic surface, and a chalkboard or Velcro. Lighting elements, magnetically mounted objects on a metallic surface, and a chalkboard or Velcro are well known in the art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the present invention was made to use lighting elements, magnetically mounted objects, and a chalkboard or Velcro in the structure of Finkelstein as good ways to present the advertising message.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Muta reveals a display device. De Greeve shows a portable dealer license plate and advertising strip holder.
